- Takes a supportive role in the function and flow of programs and services.
- Performs regular visual checks on clients to assess physical and mental state.
- Supports client wellness by facilitating their personal, social, and emotional growth and assisting them in their recovery.
- The ability to meet people ‘where they are at’ and engage clients in meaningful ways.
- Works collaboratively with other treatment staff and professionals to support clients.

Qualifications

- Grade 12 or equivalent AND three (3) years direct work experience in the helping field OR diploma or degree in the field of human services and one (1) year direct work experience
- CPR certificate and non-violent crisis intervention certificate
- Knowledgeable of trauma-informed practices in addictions and mental health care
- Knowledge of the history of colonization of Indigenous Peoples in Canada and the effect on the lives of this population.
- Criminal record check and vulnerable sector check
- Committed to personal wellness and living a lifestyle free from alcohol and drugs

What we Offer

Full-time employees are entitled to generous paid leave including vacation (starting at four weeks), sick leave, and family responsibility leave. Additionally, the Rising Sun offers a Registered Pension Plan and other group benefits. Successful candidates will be provided a thorough orientation and opportunities for continuous learning and development.

Those interested in applying are asked to submit a cover letter and resume demonstrating possession of the required qualifications and competencies for the position. Three professional references will be required.
